The Parish of St. Augustine, by far the oldest in the land, has had many vicissitudes in consequence of frequent changes of flag. The first colonists came from Spain in 1565, more than half a century before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth. The Church of St. Augustine was fully organized at that early period, and it is its unique privilege to have a full set of records of baptisms, marriages, etc., from the year 1594. [CEM, 2]

The first shrine ever dedicated to the Blessed Virgin Mary in the United States was established before 1620 on the same site.

National Catholic Welfare Conference

Address—1312 Massachusetts ave., N. W., Washington, D. C. Phone: REpublic 7-3553.

The National Catholic Welfare Conference, established in 1919, as the successor to the National Catholic War Council, one of the seven welfare agencies recognized by the U. S. Government during World War I, is an organization of the members of the Hierarchy of the United States, for the purposes specified in the Brief "Communes" issued by His Holiness, Pope Benedict XV, April 10, 1919, and in the Letter of His Holiness, Pope Pius XI, of August 10, 1927. The National Catholic Welfare Conference is not a council or legislative assembly, as contemplated by the Sacred Canons, and therefore, the resolutions of the Bishops at the meetings of the National Catholic Welfare Conference do not have the force of law. Every Bishop may make use of any service offered by the Conference through its Departments, Committees, general secretary, and staff officers at the National Headquarters. The Conference aims to facilitate discussions of policies affecting the interests and activities of the Church in the United States.

Every Bishop of the Church in the United States and its territories and possessions, whether residential or titular, ipso facto has active and passive voice in the Conference.

The Conference is incorporated under the laws of the District of Columbia and has for its objects the unifying, coordinating and organizing of the Catholic people of the United States in works of education, social welfare, immigrant aid, civic education and other activities.

The Conference is administered by a board composed of ten Bishops elected at the annual meeting of the Hierarchy of the United States to serve for the term of one year. No elected Bishop shall be eligible to serve more than five consecutive terms, but he may be again eligible for election after one year out of office.
